THE GRAEFENBERG PILLS.

THERE are few medicines deserving the name of Medicine recommended "FAVORITE" should be made the means of incalculable and enduring blessings to the human family. Suppose, for example, that a high order of talent, long and assiduous observation and great medical learning and experience, be brought to bear upon the invention and manufacture of a PILL. What may not this long devotion to this division of medical science be crowned with, this success that attends the exercise of similar talents and labor in other things? There is no reason; and it is but the simple truth when we say that the Graefenberg Pills produced will be as perfect an article as can be made by man. Twenty five years devotion to any one object will give a man of ability the mastery over it. This labor has been bestowed upon the

and they are presented to the public with a time unparalleled in the annals of medical science.

It will be seen by tracing the history of all great inventions that they were not made or discovered until the arrival of what may be termed the requisite time. The materials composing the instrument were invented until the fit hours of time" it was needed. The frankincense always lay at man's feet, but he never knew what a wonderful and luxuriating guide was treasured up in a last season until the Dromedary deposited two drops near what distant continents and islands were to be unveiled. Should it now be referred to the binnacle of the adventurous sailor enabling him to launch far away upon unknown Oceans, instead of idly sailing within a sight of familiar land-marks?

So with the discovery of the New World, upon whose shores was to arise this Giant Nation to a power a glory and an extent far beyond the conception of the ardent imagination. The Dial World had reached its highest point of the Old Hemisphere. Its sages foretold the revolution of the New and behold the renowned Columbus bore the fleet of his drooched and leaky vessel found it safe enough to spread the wings of steam, of the magnetic needle, of the Printing Press and Providential!

THE GRAEFENBERG PILLS are now every day more and more appreciated by the world. Most believe that not a pillus rations and proofs of their worth can be found in the history of the world. We can trace back from the Mosaic dispensation down to the present hour all of human research, and we can trace in vain for a single instance of a medicine so generally approved of and so extensively used.

That the people are fast coming to a knowledge of Physical Science is easily shown in the

which is furnished gratuitously to all who wish it. The

are deemed by all who have tested them to be an unconquerable antidote to all other medical combinations and discoveries heretofore known and they are announced as

THE GREAT REMEDIAL TRIUMPH

The avowed of the Pills results has thus spoken to the world and the cause of humanity and enthusiasm, filled with the spirit of the

ALMIGHTY CREATOR,

THAT

he requires it at his sacrifices and his patients make use of the life current that leaps through the veins and arteries of man, they can hope for a permanent cure. By the use of the Graefenberg Vegetable Pills and a strict adherence to the rules of health and temperance, the blood may be purified and the health restored. Thousands have proved the truth of this assertion and by the use of the Pills have enjoyed health and happiness.

I tell you at the instance of a friend who is making a thorough trial of your medicines and with complete success.

FROM A DISTINGUISHED GENTLEMAN OF BOSTON.

Gentlemen

I cannot refrain from troubling you with a few lines to express my great pleasure in being able to say that I have experienced the greatest relief from the effects of your Pills. For many years I have suffered much from costiveness, which has disarranged my whole system, and I have not known a day's good health for many years. I am now an old man I feel as if I were again a boy. I feel like a friend recommended me to you I do so which I did although without any confidence the result. I am happy to inform you, has far exceeded my expectations the cause of my suffering is now removed and I feel my health and strength daily improved and I am satisfied that the merits of your Pills will be acknowledged by the whole community and will become the most popular medicine of the day.

FROM BOSTON ——— ar CHEMIST

Sirs

Since writing you last upon the subject of my ill health I have been taking your medicine, and am pleased to say that they have been of great service to me, and if they continue to give me the relief I have already felt I shall have to pay you some thanks. I suffered at a date ago to be rather ugly I have before told you of, but intend to persevere and hope to be able, the next time I write, to say to you the happy intelligence of a perfect cure. I have heard of many instances in my neighborhood where they have performed astonishing ordinary cures.

FROM AN EPISCOPAL DIVINE

Gentlemen—I consider it to be the duty of every Christian to make known to the world any advantages that they may have derived by accident or from any discovery of the times and with this sentiment impressed on my mind I feel great gratification in stating to my friends the highest terms of the valuable property you have made in the preparation of your Pills. I was called to try them, from the peculiar manner in which you have recommended the subject and I must do myself the pleasure, and pay the justice to say that I had no complaints to offer and be satisfied at. My complaint has been that of the Liver. From which I despaired of ever getting better, since taking your Pills I find my spirits, appetite as much improved that I feel as if I could be equal to the duties of an arduous Profession. In conclusion to your agent for more Pills when needed. Accept my considerations and gratitude, I am, &c.

From every section of the country similar testimonials are daily received but our limits will not admit of more. Once trying will convince the most incredulous. Sold wholesale and retail by the Agent for the Proprietors.

WINER'S

CANADIAN VERMIFUGE

A CERTAIN REMEDY FOR WORMS.

This remedy is safer in its operation and more easily administered than any other.

THE GREATEST CAUSE OF DEATH among children is to be attributed to Worms. They give rise to numerous disorders, and are the most fatal, because least suspected, even parents to give his subject more attention and carefully observe the symptoms which indicate the existence of worms in bowels. The loss of many children would be doubtless saved. Some of the symptoms usually following, be countenance is of a pale or leaden color, and suffused with occasional flushes, the eyes are heavy and dull, bad breath, itching to the nostrils, the sleep is disturbed, the patient often awakening in great fright, and is liable to start up and grinding the teeth, the appetite is irregular being sometimes voracious and at other times feeble, occasional vomiting &c.

Winer's Canadian Vermifuge has required no puffing to recommend it, for it is so decidedly superior to any other medicine of the kind, and is daily increasing in popularity whatever it is known and used. It is universally approved. It possesses properties which no other article of the kind does. It is more prompt and efficacious in its effects and not a single ingredient which have any but a beneficial effect, the result of the natural being always in proportion even when no worms are discovered. Physicians prescribe it and to use the language of one in high standing who resides in Cleveland, Ohio, considers it the only article of the kind he ever saw that was sel uniform and prompt in expelling worms. Yet may indeed be relied on with the utmost confidence, as it has never been known to fail thus is the reason why all who have used it will not use any other.

We have in our possession a number of certificates from physicians and others of the highest respectability who all testify to its superior efficacy, and recommend it as a never failing remedy.

READ AND BE CONVINCED

We, the undersigned have frequently administered a medicine prepared by Mr John Winer of this town designated "Winer's Canadian Vermifuge," and be ng fully satisfied with its efficacy confidently recommend it as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the intestinal canal.

New York March 30th 1847

Messrs J Winer & Co, Sirs—My child of five years of age was for more than two years severely afflicted with worms, during which time we gave her 15 different medicines recommended in such cases but they produced no beneficial effects. I at length procured a bottle of your Canadian Vermifuge and gave it to her which caused her to pass a large number of worms, while then she has been in the enjoyment of perfect health. From my own experience, I would recommend your Vermifuge as being the most safe and efficacious remedy for worms now in use. Yours truly

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S CONCENTRATED

Sherry-Wine Bitters.

THE Proprietor of this medicine offers to the public the result of an extensive practice and a thorough investigation of the laws which govern the human system.

It cannot be denied by those who have become acquainted with the singular virtues of these Bitters that they possess a pre eminence over all others now in use, for the diseases which they profess to cure.

It is a well known fact that most diseases arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, in youthful adult and declining life.

The extensive sympathies which subsist between these and every other part of the living body, the foundation of Nervous Diseases of all kinds—Irregular Appetite Languor Drowsiness, Wandering Pains Headache, Lowness of Spirits, &c.

And these in their turn give birth to Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart Shortness of Breath, Jaundice, Piles Fever Inflammatory Humors Coughs and a host of diseases which embitter life and poison all sources of enjoyment.

The distinguished character of these Bitters is most striking, their operation being more or less powerful according to the violence of the disease. When used in appropriate quantity, in cases of slight derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, caused by costiveness or a slight bilious difficulty and the like where nature needs assistance to prevent more serious consequences, they will be scarcely felt.

On the contrary, in obstinate cases they frequently operate more powerfully, causing two or three evacuations daily, until the circulating fluid becomes purified. This accomplished they act on the system in connection with our food, each receiving mutual assistance until the constitution is restored to a state of health and renewed vigor.

Historical Sketch.

This city has been the theatre of many stirring events. One hundred and twenty-five years since this whole country was reaking with an Indian war. An expedition to the Penobscot was undertaken under the command of Col Westbrook. He had between 200 and 300 men in small vessels and whale boats and landed at Marsh bay and from thence in the winter, marched through this city to Oldtown where they found a large Indian village deserted. They applied the torch to the well built chapel, the council house and dwelling house of the priest and to 23 wigwams of the Indians and the whole were burnt to ashes. Two years afterwards the French and Indians had built up a pretty village in the city between the Lower Jail and the Brick school house on Harlow plains. Here they had their corn fields and the rude culture of Indian life. The village must have had a beautiful and imposing appearance for the reputation soon reached the ears of Captain Heath at Fort Richmond. He immediately conceived the bold project of destroying it. He accordingly came through the woods from the Kennebec with 50 men and fell upon the village. The Indians had received no fire and fled. The village was laid in ashes but was never rebuilt as the Indians rebuilt Oldtown as a more important place.

Governor Pownal in company with Gen Waldo was in a guard of 13 men visited the city eighty more years since and here held a conference with the Indians. During this visit Gen Waldo died here and the Governor buried a leaden plate to commemorate the event—It was put far down the Powder farm.

The first white settlement was made here 79 years since as dated by the settlement had increased somewhat it was known as Gondebakes plantation. It was incorporated as town Feb. 25, 1791 it having been known as Condebakes Plantation for some twenty years. The plantation limits were from Sowadnepsco stream in Hampden to Orono. The first minister was Rev Seth Noble and several of his letters, agreements and accounts are now on the file in the City Clerks office.

The Kenduskeag bridge was built in 1807 and remained a Toll bridge until bought by the town in 1823.

The City Hall was erected in 1812 by private enterprise and offered for the use of the Courts in order to induce the removal from Castine to this place. It was a great undertaken for the village here at that time. The first Parish Society, Mr Pomroy a worshiped there until 1822 when the first meeting house in the town was completed.

At that time there were two swing partitions separating the rooms now occupied by the Aldermen and the Common Council. Seats were arranged in those rooms and thus the whole house was occupied.

This building has been occupied in turn by every denomination in the city with the exception of the Catholics. It was the head quarters of British soldiers in the last war and their camp kettles were piled on the embankment in front of it. American soldiers also quartered in it in the Aroostook war. It was once the richest and best building in the village but seems destined in its present position to become the meanest in the city.

☞ The Firemen paraded yesterday as per previous notice under the command of their efficient Chief Engineer Ebenezer Fresel Esq. They were out for target shooting and made a formidable appearance but the attendance of gazing citizens they were gratified at the pleasure of exhibiting their skill with firearms to their fellow citizens. In the evening they partook of an excellent supper got up by our friend Waite which was readily used up to the entire satisfaction of all concerned.

☞ The U S frigate Macedonian arrived off the Cove of Cork 20th ult, after having encountered a severe gale the day subsequent to her leaving the Clyde, in which she barely escaped total wreck.

☞ The Hon Artemas Ward for many years Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas in Massachusetts died at his residence in Park St Boston, on the 10th inst, at the age of 84 years.

The Governor of Alabama in a proclamation calling up the citizens of that State in relation to their military movements in filling up the five companies of Infantry and fifteen of Rifle, the Government United last May. It appears that up to this time not one of these companies has been enrolled.

On Tuesday last three miles from Buffalo the telegraph wires were cut off and about 600 feet of it carried to parts unknown. The company have offered a reward of $100 for the detection of the rogues.

A correspondent of the Boston Atlas recommends every one going abroad to subscribe for a paper from his native town forever the advertisements are of interest and distance lends enchantment to the marriages.

Favorable winds brought into Plymouth Eng in a couple of days in the first week in Oct at least 150 ships laden with grain waiting for orders. A great number of them were sent to the Continent.

Specimens of American copper were recently offered at auction in London but the sale excited little interest. A mass of crystal red copper for which Cobourn had been offered £31, was sold for £7 3s. For the mountain mass £30 was offered but it was withdrawn not choosing to sell it under £ 30.

Father Mathew, it is now definitely announced, will visit America in the spring of 1848.

Mr Wise the ex-Minister at the Court of Brazil arrived in Washington on Wednesday and on Thursday had an interview with the President.

Telegraphic communications passed through the whole circuit between New York and Montreal 1021 miles, on the 16th.

Thanksgiving is to be celebrated on the 25th November in Massachusetts Maine New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York and Missouri.

Fire—Oilcloth Factory Burnt.

About half past four o'clock in the morning of the 19th inst, the extensive Factory of Messrs Rhodes & Sampson situated in the Northeast of this village was discovered to be on fire—in less than half an hour the flames burst through the roof and out of the sides of the building and in half an hour more the whole building was in ruins. Loss estimated about $10 000.—Hallowell Standard.

A lawyer name of the office, having a very sad face while it was understood was not the office at drinking cham milk was told that he was not much of a lawyer. Why sir said he I have been called the deepest red lawyer in the city.

A Voice from Britain.

(From the Christian Citizen.)

EDINBURGH
12 Canning Place Sept 16 '47.

DEAR AMERICAN BRETHREN:

Before men can truly and ardently hate their fellow-men they must know each other. It is only necessary that they know each other. It is with the high places of which God has blessed abundantly by God the earth, but although blessed abundantly by God the earth, but although blessed abundantly by God with the gifts of national resources nations have been strangers and enemies to each other from all records time, crushing and combating with a steel of iron and instrument, each other. It is a stand off in and instrument, each other. It is a humiliating truth that an antagonism in the streets of cities and on the high chantes in the streets of cities and on the high ways leading to sweet rural villages of the world has been one of the most active and effective agents of the war spirit—one of the most potent promoters of national alienation and hatred, clouding and poisoning the spirit of man towards man and rendering Irish and Jew from the heart by a sort of hereditary prejudice. We have every been accustomed to view nations through a wrong medium, that of their governments and to attribute to the people the acts and feelings of their rulers—Such a prejudice is unnatural to an American who is enfranchised and exercises sovereign authority over his legislators, and applied to democracies it is a legitimate fault by which to judge of the general feeling and idea of the people but when applied to any of the old European forms of government whether despotic or oligarchical, it becomes a transparent fraud approaches into a mere accident.

The people of America must feel with their government as that government could not exist, the people of France, Britain and Germany, may feel with their governments, if not the vassals, the executioners of their own tyrannies can always confirm to make their subjection to their oppressors, however much they may stumble in it. Then I have often felt and felt in seeing reproaches of American feelings towards Britain when the spirit that dictated them was proud and angry. The haughty tyrannical proud and vengeful by country has been among the nations of the earth. With the burning blush of shame in my cheek and sorrow at my heart I acknowledge that she has good from hand before the world by a detestable and destroyer. She has dictated her banners of war over the nations of Europe Asia Africa and America and has hung them rent and reeking from the battle field of death in her temples and in her altars while her priests sang Te Deums. Her murder and tyrannick rule of the ocean and land she has been guilty of and yet also in her cannon shot is death proclaimed for haughty Britain.

I have often thought that of the great American people who even at their hour of greatest pride are generous could only realize the dark half of national feeling which labor germinates in their own old mother land they would be less inclined to call her proud of haughty. Recollect my dear brethren that there are always two way of looking at things, there is an universal quality pervading nature, and I we draw conclusions from only of the shifts which constitute that quality we judge impartially. There is apparent second thought in essence in the constitution of everything which has long the experience and great Britain has been judged more from her appearance than from her true constitution and feeling. It is one thing to see the British soldier from home in the red flaming flaunting array and another to see the British soldier in his own habitation at home. One is the haughty represent tative of a system which drains the life blood and health fast from the heart of the community, the other is the retiring secluded husband where the element of war is forcibly struggled. Cabinets and kings are cured and gain cry, the talk in the street fast loading usage of the chivalry of the day. They marshall their hosts and then sound their trumpets and shout their hate cries but beyond and beneath their armies the team and sorrow of a poor much wronged labor have flowed and have flowed ages. The centurions of the feudal system did not fall with its visible type in Britain, merely became transposed and we have coterie and corporations in which the egotism of old times is transparent as of old was it ancient feudalism. It is the government as the representatives of mere corporations, that have forever intermitted British progress and blasted the celestial moral on action well blood and tears. It has upheld a State Church which groans with the plethora of worldly replete and is manifestly a mere corporation of tithe proprietors in opposition to the appeals of Christian men and has dragged the wealth that supports her at the point of the bayonet from those who in conscience could not yield her voluntary support.

It was the government as the representative of incorporate bandits by force many that sent the soldiers to Britain, into France and the Peninsula. It is as the representative of a mere corporation of robbers, called the East India Company but she has desolated the plains of Scinde and Cabulistan, and it was at the vehicle of aristocratic pride and haughtiness, that the British Cabinet spread her colors to force with submission not the sons and children to of equality and justice that the representatives of that shire at freedom and religious freedom which we enjoy represented in the Old Country.

The government of Great Britain has seldom or never given the expression of what is right but the National Minds. It has notoriously neglected to offer sus entire genius. It has loaded war ships with gifts and decorations has expended tens of thousands upon jewelled swords and diadems to reward the great men of the greatest men of all ages. In this manner the people had given again to the names of soldiers and sailors. It has taken the widen fatherless children out of the special care and has set up a long list of the departed vestaries with the list of the dead. But the records of Labor and Commerce the two great heroes of Britain's true glory and power it has obstruct and cripped. I would hesitate to marshall so serious a host of charges against an individual, and I would perhaps have been one of the opposers had the government been that of any state but my own, but I am pleading for my country against the bad know which has been attached to her through the acts of a corporation, which corporation presents itself in a cabinet. I am asking the people of America to look into the heart of the dear land where they sprung and from which they became a nation, and I are member that all causes of mutual estrangement were not the emanation of that heart, but the impositions of a mere abstract—of a government which has assumed into the darkness of hell. Let me bring its deeds so vividly clear upon Britain's antidiluvian and the effects of them as a perpetual incubus upon the bone, blood and muscle of the country.

I ask to your dove warm hearts, Americans, listen their kindly sentiments as you meet in your churches in your halls of friendly intercourse or in the quiet of your children, by the celestial hearth. When peace, and joy, and hope and the satisfaction of rest all conduce to anger and subdue the asperities of human nature, then turn your eyes upon Great Britain, dead treatment not to view the naves that long could her sheaves, groaning with the fullness of wealth a marvel—not to scan with melancholy eye the hosts of men who are trained and subsidized to commit murder exquisitely, but look to Heaghtonch in her peaceful assemblies her homes—behind her peach orchards, and lastly into the hearts of her peaceful citizens and when you have looked until you can mark that true current of Britain's sentiments and have listened to the natural bleating of my country's heart,—each, in short, you have learnt to know Britain, in question, and have forgotten the ideas you have imbibed from appearances, then will you heartily and warmly throw your open hands to cast the wide Atlantic, and then will burst abroad the sun of love and brotherhood for you will see and feel that we are truly one people, in spite of all the jeopardy divisions which antagonism has caused.

Human governments as the representatives of corporations have divided and enslaved humanity and have stirred and led the spirit of national individuality (human sympathents, as the representatives of corporations have prostituted and set at point of God's law of universal love). Then, brethren, let it be yours to meet each other in the spirit of the Gospel, let the eyes to look upon a universal brotherhood, let which each individual is an essential part. Let us look across thrones and the pomp of those who stand prominent by virtue the will of God all the blessings of authority and power, to the lowly corner of the cottage and the cabin of the labor and the cottages of the thinkers, and in the peace, love and poverty, which we shall behold in these abodes, we shall recognize claimants of our charity and Christian sympathy—we shall behold other protests against that hatred and stiff grey which governments have too often illustrated, and which have been too often attributed to the people, whose lot it has been to toil and suffer and bear the oppressors blame.

Britain, for centuries past has worn a mask, and has been dressed in a doublet of scarlet and blue, and has strutted and lectured before the world, winning hatred and an odious fame. These antipathies, by an inevitable reaction, will effect England and Britain for the life which she has saturated with blood, and fed and fattened by the spirit of love, will pay her back, blow for blow. "Christ in a straw every country they visit with dead men's bones, therefore I will not admit Christians into my country, says the Emperor of China, thus does Britain's Parliament by its acts, bear false witness to the religion of peace and love, as well as aspersion to the unrepresented principle of labor which drags at the chariot wheels of Moloch, and forces to appear before the world as the accessory to, or accomplice in its aggressions and its crimes.

You will naturally ask, if the people of Britain, as a people, objected to the aggressive spirit of the legislative corporation, why did they not protest against its acts? For this very reason, I answer, that they were dumb and partially blind. Labor has never until within the years 1830 and this present time, had a tongue in Britain. The clang of its anvils, the noise of its looms and the blows of its ponderous bars and mallets have resounded from shore to shore proclaiming the power and notion of its physical action, but although the children of labor since the days of Caxton could read the symbols of ideas, and the printing press pasted to proclaim the glory of the principle which rendered it operative, Labor's spirit had no exponent—no vehicle of expression, so that which incorporated aristocracy had taught it—the vehicle of physical force. From the days of Wat Tyler, the blacksmith and Kett the tanner two famous leaders and rebel on against unrepresented taxation, until the days of Cato of Monmouth, the laborer has seized the implements of force by physical power, in order that he might but down the walls of privileges which hereditary legislators and the representatives of corporations had built around their selves, and from which he was excluded with scorn.

From the day that Norman William set his foot upon the shore of England, in A D 1066 King and had been divided against itself. War, as represented by the Norman aristocracy, and labor, which is represented in the Saxon communities have been struggling with each other in an unconquerable antagonism. The former arrayed in feather and iron, and tricked out in gold and gems was disciplined and banded in a corps of mutual protection the latter like a blind Samson built a strength, but knew not the most potent way to exercise it. The barons boldly proclaimed the warriorn blasphemy that might was right and they clashed their swords in their vaulted halls, amongst their collared retainers, and encountered laws in accordance with the constitution and apotheosis the laborers look on in silence and suffered. The castles of the feudal first century was a shade more or less than receptacles of stolen goods—goods left by the strong had from the toiling and turner—the protected workers. The barons detached a certain amount of labor power from its legitimate exercise and trained it to destroy and rob what labor merely secured or put produced, and thus put the two elements gone on for ages warring with each other. Labor and War have ever in internally illustrated their essential antagonism. War or ex luxuriism or individuality, or egotism, I care not what it is called, has enacted laws of a strange nature, of entail, game laws, bern laws and many other laws which were and are purely selfish in their nature, it has built palaces cathedrals and universities, from which it has excluded the people as detrimental to the earth and the fullness thereof had been made for an order alone, and the poor house, with its gloomy and hopeless aspect and its cold and cheerless life, or rather sentient death, has been built in dark nooks and secluded places for which man labor.

The stately homes of England how beautiful they stand and their ancestral trees over all the pleasant land. Aye so they be, most beautiful as the oaks and elms spread their long arms around the Lacements and Windsors of the land, but they neither wave their green bows in welcome to Jemmy Stubsmith nor spread their shady screen for his father that he may recline at sunset after his labor. In an examination which took place a very few years ago before a committee of the House of Commons Lord Ashley brought from the deep and murky coal mines of England, full grown human beings who had never heard the eternal name of the great God, save in incoherent mutterings of profane. They had never been taught to know the supreme, the universal Father whose children they were, they never had been spoken to of that benign and holy Saviour who would have wept over their hopeless darkness.—They only lived and labored. Mark that brother Americans—a condition in which the light feebly illumined feeling of a bright and beautiful world above was the habitation of these human beings—a habitation—the work of immortal men and women. Labor like a cyclope with one eye burnt out was chained to the dreary habitation of ignorance by a heartless prescription—children, four years of age, who had scarcely seen the bright and glowing face of heaven were dragged by a conventional necessity—the necessity of poverty, to these halls of Erebus—women, mothers sisters, wives were transmuted into beasts of burthen and literally wore the flesh from their bones while dragging contracts with chains through the murky passages of these tunes and all that society which luxuriated in the bright world above gave in exchange for this transfer from the light of the soul, and the bread of the life eternal, was a meal dry crust and a couch of straw.

Did the fife and fife and drum ever symbolize the wailings of these England's dungeon laborers my brethren? Did the artisan who drove the shuttle across the loom, or the sturdy brawny mechanic who made the anvil clang with his strong and hearty blows—did they ever give cause for distant nations to point the finger at this island and stigmatize it as a home of desolators! Had they representatives among the hosts who have gone forth to the sound of fife and drum with their gay banners flying and blades flashing in the sunbeams? Were they missionaries of labor who burnt the home of the peasant and tramped down the produce of his fields!—who stabbed the hearth with the blood of innocence and laughed as the greedy flames writhed their thousand tongues round the roof trees of a thousand homes! Never! The mission of labor is to build up to develope to produce, to sustain—these were the representatives of destruction—They were the physical force of toil perverted corrupted, and transmuted into the vampyres and suicides of their order and of its grand attributes.

Then Americans, by the hope of a better day for those who have long bared the cross of toil and continually, by the strong ties of essential kinship by the sunlight of love and through the medium of Christian charity, judge kindly of your British brethren. The owlry, whose crime was only misfortune—they who have been troddenl under foot from all recorded time—the poor who have borne a heavy yoke—whose heritage has been suffering silent and patience—are at last speaking out! Their hearts leap kindly to words of love peace, and friendship. They pant to disconnect themselves from the decision which long centuries of antagonism has incorporated with the name of Britain and forgetting all past suffering and contumely they seek to make one country truly great and glorious in all the ways of pleasantness and all the paths of peace." Brethren, when you sent the stores of food to Scotland and Ireland, you sent Americans to convey it, ask your countrymen who saw before the ensign reds surface of war of Bellona that they were sent upon the shores by proud and haughty Britain! Brethren if they could fight and kill Britain's shores they thought that by so doing they would be avenging the wretchedness and agony of the thralls of Ireland and brothers whom they sent and said. Brethren of America, south those pale lands the tear drops of your humanity the kindness of your benevolence, your prayers, will yet towards rest, believe them.

There is a little boy, who first drew breath in Minnesota, one two thousand miles to the south of Boston, N. B. and this little boy, who can scarcely say a word in blood, and dear to me, that I never saw before, and that I am sure of that I shall never see again, but I love that little boy, who has in terms of his country's interest and weal.

I have tried to plead in your name, Americans, for the abolition of labor. Will your country and you reject the appeal? Can both familiarity bone, for there has been too much formality even in lit every intercommunion—too much lip-worship of a friendship—too little of that union of the heart, which ought to be as simple as the dimple on child hood's cheek; but it has been sincerely deep, and I know will at least meet with a sincere reception and a generous return.

Yours in the bonds of brotherhood,
JAMES B STEE

Influence of Railroads.

That all our important routes of travel are to be traversed by railroads, cannot be questioned. And that this change in our intercommunication will produce a corresponding one in the habits and circumstances of the community can no more be doubted. This influence is to be felt in things of comparatively little importance as well as in things more essential. The personal habits of men who travel much on railroads are to be affected, as are also, all their habits of doing business. Habits of general promptness and despatch will be encouraged, for people who are compelled to be prompt to a minute, in order to avail themselves of the convenience of railroad locomotion may reasonably be expected to become equally prompt in other engagements. Energy, activity and enterprise can not fail to be encouraged by the operations of our various railroad companies, for a community who have daily opportunity to witness the wonders which have been wrought by these enterprises, will be slow to believe that any great enterprise is impossible. It may perhaps be said that the New England character has quite enough of this "go ahead-iveness" already. And it is no doubt true that this is a prevailing element among our prominent business men, but in the masses there is no superabundance of this energy activity and enterprise, so essential to success in all great and good undertakings. And it is the effect of railroads on the community at large of which we particularly speak. Wherever railroads go, however remote from the busy haunts of commerce and trade, they are waking up the minds of the people—they are in using new life and vigor into the masses. Men are more wide awake on all subjects. There conversation and their very looks seem to show this.

A man has but to go to some remote part of New England into which the iron horse has found his way within a few years, to see and feel that what we say is true. Let one go into the interior of New Hampshire or Vermont, and he will find men—and common sort of men too as the world calls them—who are earnest to talk about railroads, and are intelligent in respect to all matters pertaining to these enterprises; and on inquiry it will be found that multitudes of them are stockholders in railroads, too. This will be found true of men who might be judged on first sight as too poor to own any other stock than a yoke of steers a couple of cows and a few sheep! But so it is, we have found among the most secluded valleys and on the most rugged hill sides of our interior country illustrations of this remark. Now wake up a man on one such subject and you give an impetus to his mind on all kindred subjects.

Then again the influence of railroads in consolidating and invigorating the New England mind, is worth considering. Railroads are exerting a mighty influence in bringing the most distant parts of the country into close proximity. They are rendering those who were widely separated familiar with each other and making accessible all that is valuable in remote parts of the country. What ever of undesirable peculiarity may exist in one section of the country may thus be rectified and whatever is excellent and desirable has an opportunity of being disseminated. Knowledge thus liberally rules to and fro, and sectional ignorance as well as sectional peculiarities, will thus be broken up, and men will be made to think and feel more alike because their means of knowing and judging will be more nearly the same.

The tendency of railroads is to equalize the condition of the community. It is of little comparative importance to one who lives on the line of a railroad whether he be five or a hundred miles from the head quarters of intelligence or traffic. A few minutes or a few hours will convey to him information or bring him or his articles of traffic to the great centres. The farmer's produce need not be worthless or depreciate in his hands for the want of convenient access to the market. Summer and winter are the same. If he has aught to sell, a few hours will take him to the best market and at the best time for his interest. Thus, articles which in the interior of the country have heretofore been almost worthless, are now valuable inasmuch as they can with the utmost ease and rapidity be transported. And the whole interior of New England is developing these advantages.

We might easily extend these remarks on the general influence of railroads. But we have said enough to open the subject for consideration, and that is all we intended to do at this time.

LECTURE ON BURNS.

CARD.

☞ The Managers of the LYCEUM beg leave to tender their acknowledgements to the citizens of Bangor for the unprecedented generosity with which they have sustained their efforts to sustain that institution the present year. For the purpose of guarding the rights and serving the convenience of those who have purchased tickets the Managers will feel it to be their duty to receive no one hereafter stranger or otherwise who does not exhibit to the doorkeeper either ticket or check, the evidence of his right to admission. The Managers have spared no effort to secure the best and most mind-ful use for the Lyceum that could be obtained in the city and they sincerely regret that the spacious Hall is not of sufficient dimensions to accommodate all who present themselves for admittance. This being the fact the Managers trust that the holders of tickets will see the necessity of exercising due moderation in extending invitations to strangers and will also manifest a commendable vigilance least on the occasions of the Lyceum the family representation exceed in number the family responsibilities. While the Managers are willing to make sacrifices for the comfort and convenience of all the patrons of the Lyceum they will not withhold their sympathy from those who are especially, who do not find it convenient for their children to accompany them.

THE CAUSE OF THE PRESSURE upon the Brain is a collection of morbid humors in the blood, which not only deranges the circulation but also by increasing the apparent quantity of the vital fluid, cause a distention of the swelling of the blood vessels, a pressure upon the nerves which leads to the brain and headache, giddiness palpitation of the heart, insanity apoplexy suddenddeath, and other dreadful results.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are always certain to relieve a pressure upon the brain, because they take out of the circulation those very humors which are the cause not only of all disordered conditions of the blood but of every painful accident to man. They also aid and improve the digestion as well as purify the blood and therefore not only give health and vigor to the whole frame but are always certain to prevent any evil results from a pressure upon the brain.

Beware of Counterfeits of all kinds. Some are coated with sugar others are made to resemble in outward appearance the original medicine. The safest course is to purchase from the regular agents only one or more of whom may be found in every village and town in the State.

Further Particulars of the late Battles in Mexico.

The New Orleans Picayune has received by the arrival of the Steamer Fashion, from Vera Cruz, letters from its correspondent in the city of Mexico to the 28th ult. These contain a variety of particulars respecting the late battles.

General Pillows and Shields it seems were wounded but at the last accounts they were both doing well.

At the battle of Molino del Rey (King's Mills) 700 of Gen Worth's division were lost and about 600 more in the battles of the 13th.

In storming Chapultepec and in the attack on the Citadel, Gen Quitman's divisions lost 300—Twiggs's 268—Pillows' 142, and Worth's 138—Worth had scarcely 1000 men in this action.

Among the killed are Col Mackintosh Col Ransom of the N E Regiment, Lt Col Martin Scott Lt Col Graham Lt Col Baxter New York Regiment, Lt Col Dickinson South Carolina, Major Twiggs Capts Van Olinda and Merrill.

Among the wounded, George W Tallcott, John H Savage, Brevet Major J Wright A Montgomery Capts Anderson, Carey, Walker Lieuts Glenne, Cowmans, Guthrie, Williams, Miller, Caldwell, Major A H Gladden Asst Adj t Gen'l Maj Page Asst Adj t Lovell, Asst Adj t. Genl William W Markell, Volunteer, Aide de Camp, George Wilkins Kendall Lieut. Col John Garland Major W W Loring Brevet Col J E Johnston Cap Williams, Smith Pierson, Hungerford Danley McPhail Simonzer Bickenstoss, Tucker Dunman Magruder Scantland Gale Barnard Trendale.

The entire loss of the American army since leaving Puebla in killed wounded and missing, is set down by the Picayune's correspondent at full 3000, while another authority estimates the number at 4000.

The Mexican loss had not been definitely ascertained but it is said to have been enormous.

Gen Bravo it appears was not killed, but was taken prisoner, neither was General Santa Anna wounded as reported.

The story that the American troops had been seriously repulsed at the capital was without foundation.

It is rumored that Santa Anna is going to Central America.

Herera was at Queretero.

Most of the American deserters had been hung, but Riley was only flogged.

Cassius M Clay and others joined Gen Scott in the taking of the capital.

Gen Scott had issued a proclamation from the National Palace, congratulating the army on the glorious victories they had obtained, and calling on them to return thanks to God therefor, and urging on them, the necessity of maintaining military discipline, with order and sobriety, to protect them from surprise.

An American newspaper had already issued from the capital.

A letter from the capital says:

"On the morning of the 14th, the American army entered the city in a quiet manner. General Scott had already reached the Palace, when suddenly the rabble commenced throwing stones upon the American troops from the tops of the houses, and from all along the streets where the better classes were firing from windows, balconies, &c.

Gen Scott ordered pieces of artillery to be placed in different directions and soon swept the streets with grape shot. This however proved insufficient to subdue the insurrection.

A few companies were then sent with orders to break open every house out of which the Mexicans should fire, to put to the sword those found within and to sack the property which might be found in them.

These orders were executed with great moderation.

A Mexican Congress was to meet on the 5th instant.

CHANGES OF WEATHER, as well as a change of Season, generally produce a change in the human system. Sensations of an unpleasant character are then felt by almost all persons. Dr LEIDY'S SARSAPARILLA BLOOD PILLS are decidedly the safest and best medicine that can be taken for removing such feelings, and are besides most strongly recommended to all persons subject to Pain in new or Giddiness Headache, Drowsiness, Depression of the Spirits, Melancholy, &c., common to persons who are plethoric. They purify the Blood, aid nature and stimulating the circulation, and carry off the gross humors of the system generating disease.

Alkaloid Xabon,

FOR CLEANSING TEETH.

IN the preparation of this article there is nothing used which will prove in the slightest degree injurious to the structure of the Teeth, as its chemical components preclude the possibility of injury to any of the properties entering into their composition. From its alkaline principle it corrects the vitiating fluids of the mouth, whether arising from acid eructations of the stomach, or the decomposition of food collected about the interstices of the teeth and gums, by its removal, preventing the deposite of tartar, causing the teeth to assume a clear surface, free from the usual stain at the junction of the gums common to the use of the various dentifrices now in vogue, removing from the breath the unpleasant odors usually attending the above diseases.

N. B. It has received the approbation of Drs. Bell, and Bond of the McLane Asylum, and others, who could do by give their views in accordance with their belief for the benefit of the public.

UNITED STATES OFFICER

Capt G W McLean, of the United States Navy, and member of the New Jersey Legislature, has kindly sent us the following certificate It tells its own story

BARWAY, Jan. 2, 1847

A year since I was taken with the influenza, and my whole system left in a debilitated state I was induced to try Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and after taking two or three bottles, I was very much relieved, and continued it entirely to the said Sarsaparilla I have continued taking it, and find that I improve every day I believe that it saved my life, and would not be without it under any consideration G W McLEAN

SCROFULA CURED

This Certificate conclusively proves that the Sarsaparilla has perfect control of the most obstinate diseases of the blood Three persons cured in one house is unprecedented

THREE CHILDREN.

Dr Townsend: Dear Sir—I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the Scrofula by the use of your excellent medicine—They were afflicted very severely with bad sores have taken some four bottles, it took them away, for which I feel myself under deep obligation Yr's respectfully,

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES

This extract of Sarsaparilla has been expressly prepared in reference to female complaints None females who have reason to suppose she is approaching that critical period, "the turn of life," should neglect to take it, as it is a certain preventative for one of the numerous and horrible evil consequences to which females are subject at this time of life This period may be delayed for several years by using this medicine Nor is it less valuable to those who are approaching womanhood, as it is calculated to assist nature by gently bearing the blood and invigorating the system Indeed this medicine is invaluable for all of the delicate diseases to which women are subject It braces the whole system renews permanently the natural energies—by removing the impurities of the body, not so far strengthening the system as to produce a subsequent relaxation—which is the case of most medicine taken for female weakness and disease

GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE

Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for incipient Consumption Barrenness Leucorrhœa or Whites, obstructed or difficult Menstruation, Incontinence of Urine, or involuntary discharge of urine, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of labor or excess or causes produced by irregularity, illness or accident

Nothing can be more pleasing than the invigorating effects on the human frame Persons subject to weakness and lassitude from taking it, at once become robust and full of energy under its influence It immediately counteracts the nervousness of the female frame which is the great cause of barrenness

It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature to exhibit certificates of cures performed, but we can assure the afflicted that hundreds of cures have been effected in the Several cases where families have been without children, after using a few bottles of this invaluable medicine have been blessed with a healthy offspring

Dr Townsend My wife being greatly distressed by weakness and general debility, and suffering continually pain and a sensation of bearing down, falling of the womb, and with other difficulties, and having known cases where your medicine has effected great cures, and also having recommended for such cases as I have described I obtained a bottle of your Extract of Sarsaparilla, and followed the directions you gave me. In a short period it removed the complaints and restored her to health. Being so grateful for the benefits she received, I take pleasure in thus acknowledging it and recommending it to the public ALD MOORE

Dr Townsend: Dear Sir—The effects of your Sarsaparilla are truly wonderful For the last six or eight years past. I have been subject to severe attacks of the piles, during which I have suffered all the tortures of that complaint, and have despaired of ever finding relief, except in death I have the pleasure to inform you that you are yet a balm in Gilead ☞ I have used two bottles of your Sarsaparilla, and feel no remains of my old complaint I send you this for publication and any person you may refer to me, I would be happy to inform of the benefit I have received at your hands

Yours truly, JOHN HALL, 49 Fulton-st

July 5, 1846.

CAUTION!

Owing to the very recent and immense sale of Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla, a number of men who were formerly our agents, have commenced making Sarsaparilla Extracts, Bitters, &c They generally put it up in the same shaped bottles, and copy our certificates and advertisements, claiming that their is far superior and four times stronger than Dr Townsend's, &c, hoping thereby to deceive the public. Some use the identical names a few use their own, some of these unprincipled men publish counterfeit certificates, others have indeed their brothers and other interpreted persons to allow the use of their names, to which they put "Esqr," to give them respectability. The public should be on their guard, and look out for counterfeits.

THE GRAEFENBERG PILLS.

THERE ARE THE MOST CONCLUSIVE REASONS why class of Medicines denominated PATENT should be made the means of inestimable benefit and blessings to the human family Suppose for a moment that a high order of talent long and sagacious research, great medical learning and experience brought to bear upon the invention and manufacture of a PILL. Why may not this long desired vision of medical science be crowned with success that a trade the sacrifice of similar articles to other things? There is no reason why the simplest dictate of the simplest common sense that a Pill thus produced will be accepted and can be made by man Twenty-five years experience in one subject will give a man of ability the power to do this labor has been bestowed upon the

and they are presented to the public with allegiance to the whole history of medicine as the results of the experience of ages

It will be seen, in tracing the history of these ventions, that they were not made or invented at the arrival of what may be termed modern times The mariner's compass for a long period was invented until in the "fullness of time" was collected the loadstone always for at many ages it was known what a wonderful and useful power it used in its sphere of action, until the blessed time drew near when distant continents were to be invaded Behold it now takes its place of the adventurous adventurer launch far away upon unknown Oceans, and by uniting with the light of heaven

So with the discovery of the New World Columbus shores was to arise this Giant Nation to the glory, a mission far beyond the conceptions of the old fancy The Old World discovered the fullness of time the New near for the birth of the New, and Heaven did time for the fortunate of his discoveries and lark so with the invention or printing of steam the telegraph Each of these should remain for ages "marked, distinct and Providential"

☞ In MEDICAL SCIENCE THE SAME GREAT PHYSICAL PRINCIPLE is EQUALLY MARKED Most of the illustrations of the truth of this assertion may be found in the history of the world which time forms the Mosaic dispensation one was to the present hour, all of them teach us to look to science and skill as the hope that something yet better to heal humanities sufferings at hand

That this principle is as true of Medical as of Physical science is clearly shown in the

which is furnished gratuitously to all who wish it—The

But as most and thought he is compelled to see the impositions which are practiced upon the public by pretenders and so numerous and unstable are the medicines advertised, that the reader may be excused for believing the Great Remedy A word therefore at this point
